Robinson & Cole and its clients The First Tee of Connecticut and the Greater Hartford Jaycees Community Foundation team up with the Travelers Championship and the PGA TOUR

Develop a state-of-the-art golf practice and learning facility in Cromwell, Connecticut

Hartford – March 26, 2007 – The law firm of Robinson & Cole LLP announces that LandLaw partner Kenneth C. Baldwin successfully led a team of land use lawyers in obtaining the necessary local land use permits and approvals for the development of a new state-of-the-art golf practice facility and youth learning center for its clients The First Tee of Connecticut and the Greater Hartford Jaycees Community Foundation. The First Tee practice facility will be located immediately north of the TPC River Highlands Golf Course and will be the new home for The First Tee of Connecticut. The practice facility will be utilized primarily by The First Tee but will also be available for use by PGA Tour professionals during the annual Travelers Championship golf tournament, one of 36 regular season events on the PGA Tour's new Fed Ex Cup™ Championship series.

The First Tee of Connecticut, like its affiliated across the country, work to impact the lives of young people by providing learning facilities and educational programs that promote character development and life-enhancing values through the game of golf.

Kenneth C. Baldwin practices land use, utilities, telecommunications and energy law. He focuses on all aspects of land use and utility regulation before state and local administrative agencies, with an emphasis on energy and telecommunications regulation and facility siting, as well as planning, zoning, and wetland permits and approvals. Mr. Baldwin appears regularly before the Connecticut Siting Council, the Department of Public Utility Control, and state and local administrative agencies. He also appears regularly before municipal planning, zoning, and wetland Boards and Commissions throughout Connecticut.

Founded in 1845, Robinson & Cole has more than 200 attorneys and over 250 professional staff in seven offices, who serve regional, national, and global business clients in traditional practices such as corporate, financial services, intellectual property, utilities, environmental, land use, real estate development, insurance, and litigation.
