TWO ROBINSON & COLE ATTORNEYS NAMED TO HARTFORD BUSINESS JOURNAL'S "40 UNDER FORTY"

HARTFORD, CT (July 26, 2010) – Robinson & Cole is pleased to announce that Edward J. Heath and Brian P. Henry were honored as two of 40 business professionals under the age of 40 who have achieved distinction as leaders in their respective fields. The "40 Under Forty" award is given out by the Chambers of Commerce in Hartford County in partnership with the Hartford Business Journal. Winners "share a commitment to business growth, personal excellence, and deep community involvement." Mr. Heath is a partner in the Business Litigation Group and chair of the Government Investigations and Criminal Defense Practice. Mr. Henry joined Robinson & Cole earlier this year and brings 11 years of experience in the areas of fire and explosion and products liability litigation.

Edward J. Heath

"Ed Heath is a dynamic young lawyer building a practice in the high-stakes area of governmental investigations and white-collar crime," said John B. Lynch, managing partner at Robinson & Cole. "He is an experienced trial lawyer who regularly represents clients facing serious civil or criminal exposure."

Mr. Heath's practice includes commercial, criminal, and probate litigation, and he has tried matters to verdict in state and federal court. Mr. Heath chairs the firm's Pro Bono Committee and sits on the Hartford Advisory Board of the Pro Bono Partnership, an organization that helps nonprofits in the tristate area obtain free legal assistance. Among other projects, Mr. Heath is spearheading a program at Robinson & Cole to sponsor a legal clinic for Connecticut veterans. He has also been an adjunct professor at the University of Connecticut School of Law since 2004.

Brian P. Henry

"In only a few months at Robinson & Cole, Mr. Henry has carved out a place for himself in the Fire and Explosion Group," says John H. Kane, cochair of the group. "He is a talented young attorney who brings significant experience in the field of fire science."

Mr. Henry is counsel in the firm's Fire and Explosion Group, where he practices primarily in the areas of fire and explosion litigation, products liability, and insurance. Additionally, his practice includes the direct representation of expert witnesses whose qualifications or methodology have been challenged in litigation. In 2006, he received the Certified Fire and Explosion Investigator designation from the National Association of Fire Investigators, a designation held by only two dozen attorneys in the United States.

An experienced trial lawyer, Mr. Henry has received more than two dozen jury verdicts in the last decade, a time when most cases have been resolved before trial.

Mr. Henry was recently inducted as president of the Hartford Rotary Club. He is inspired by Rotary Club International's motto "Service above Self" and admires local business leaders' commitment to putting that motto into action, both locally and abroad.

Founded in 1845, Robinson & Cole has 250 attorneys and 250 professional staff in nine offices to serve regional, national, and global business clients in multiple practice areas, as well as individual clients and governmental and nonprofit entities. Further information is available at rc.com.
