Robinson & Cole Announces Promotion of Four Associates to Counsel Status

Hartford — July 18, 2006 — Robinson & Cole is pleased to announce the promotion of four Associates to Counsel status; Jason M. Kuselias, Elizabeth R. Leong, and Joey Lee Miranda resident in our Hartford office and John E. O'Brien, Jr. resident in our Boston office.

Jason M. Kuselias is a member of the Litigation Group. He focuses his practice on business, construction, insurance, and products liability litigation. Mr. Kuselias has extensive experience litigating large commercial disputes involving breach of contract and business torts and has successfully handled numerous class actions involving consumer protection matters and unfair trade practices.

Joey Lee Miranda is a member of the firm's LandLaw Group. Her practice focuses on environmental, toxic tort, and utilities matters, including litigation, transactional and regulatory representation, and counseling. She also has experience in commercial and residential real estate matters and zoning appeals. Ms. Miranda is currently a member and chair of the Public Utilities Section and immediate past chair of the Environmental Law Section of the Connecticut Bar Association.

Elizabeth R. Leong is a member of the firm's Litigation Group focusing her practice on business and insurance litigation. Ms. Leong's experience in business litigation includes both prosecuting and defending numerous actions involving breach of contract and business tort claims.

John E. O'Brien, Jr. is a member of the firm's Litigation Group and currently practices general civil litigation. His practice focuses on representing the firm's insurance company clients in the prosecution of insurance subrogation claims. Mr. O'Brien also defends property and business owners in construction litigation and premises liability disputes.

Founded in 1845, Robinson & Cole has more than 220 attorneys and over 250 professional staff in eight offices, who serve regional, national, and global business clients in traditional practices such as corporate, financial services, intellectual property, utilities, environmental, land use, real estate development, insurance and litigation, as well as in emerging areas of the law like crisis management, bioterrorism and e-commerce.
