Robinson & Cole Announces New Partner

Hartford, CT — January 13, 2006 — The law firm of Robinson & Cole LLP announces the election of Matt Guanci, Jr. to the partnership.

Matt Guanci, Jr. focuses on corporate and securities law including mergers and acquisitions, venture capital transactions, public offerings and other corporate financings, and other general corporate matters. Mr. Guanci has represented public and private companies in asset purchases and sales, cash and stock mergers and tender offers. He has been involved in numerous venture capital transactions and other private placements as both issuer's and investor's counsel. His clients include both issuers and underwriters in public equity and debt offerings. A significant portion of Mr. Guanci's practice involves general corporate work for ongoing clients on matters such as SEC reporting, shareholder matters, employee stock plans and corporate governance.

Founded in 1845, Robinson & Cole has more than 220 attorneys and over 250 professional staff in seven offices, who serve regional, national, and global business clients in traditional practices such as corporate, financial services, intellectual property, utilities, environmental, land use, real estate development, insurance and litigation, as well as in emerging areas of the law like crisis management, bioterrorism and e-commerce.
