160 Years Warrants A Day Off To Celebrate

Hartford — June 1, 2005 — Almost 500 lawyers and professional staff from the law firm of Robinson & Cole will meet at Mystic Seaport, Wednesday, June 8 to celebrate the firm's 160th Anniversary.

Individuals from the firm's New York City, White Plains, New York, Boston, Massachusetts, Sarasota, Florida and Stamford, New London and Hartford, Connecticut offices will travel to the Seaport for a day of ocean-side celebratory activities; including cruises on the Steamboat Sabino, the last coal-fired passenger steamer in operation in the United States on down river excursions or charter cruises.

"It's an occasion for sharing the core value of our "one firm" spirit. As a tribute to the individuals who constitute our historic firm, this event acknowledges everyone's importance in fulfilling the firm's commitment to quality and service. Our collegial culture provides the energy that will carry us and our clients into a rewarding future," said Eric D. Daniels, Managing Partner.

Over the past 25 years, the firm has nearly doubled in size in addition to adding five new offices throughout the Northeast and one in Florida. The Mystic event is part of a year-long
