Robinson & Cole Attorney Elected to HSO Board of Directors

Hartford — May 6, 2008 — The law firm of Robinson & Cole is pleased to announce that attorney Mathew P. Jasinski of the Business Litigation Practice Group was recently elected to the Hartford Symphony Orchestra Board of Directors. The Hartford Symphony Orchestra, marking its 64th season in 2007 to 2008, is Connecticut's premier musical organization and is widely recognized as one of America's leading regional orchestras.

In addition to serving on the Board of Directors for the Hartford Symphony Orchestra, Mr. Jasinski is also a member of the Hartford Republican Town Committee.

Mr. Jasinski graduated from the University of Connecticut School of Law, where he was an executive editor on the Connecticut Law Review and judging director of the Connecticut Moot Court Board. As a law student, Mr. Jasinski placed first in the Alva P. Loiselle and Judge Conrad B. Duberstein Moot Court Competitions as well as in the Boston region mock trial competition of the American Association for Justice. Mr. Jasinski earned the Gallivan Award for excellence in the study of property, the David H. Neiditz Award for best moot court brief, and the Connecticut Judges' Award for overall achievement.

Mr. Jasinski received his B.A. from the University of Connecticut College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, where he was a member, and served on the board of directors of the honors program. In recognition of his student leadership, Mr. Jasinski received the university's Donald L. McCullough Award.

Mr. Jasinski is admitted to practice in Connecticut and New York.

Founded in 1845, Robinson & Cole has more than 220 attorneys and over 250 professional staff in eight offices who serve regional, national, and global business clients in traditional practices, such as corporate, financial services, intellectual property, utilities, environmental, land use, real estate development, insurance, and litigation.
