Robinson & Cole Adds a LandLaw Associate in Hartford

Hartford, CT (November 7, 2011) – Robinson and Cole LLP welcomes a new LandLaw associate attorney to the firm. Sorell E. Negro joins the land use and zoning practice group in Hartford.

Ms. Negro has a broad knowledge of different practice areas from her experience as an intellectual property and litigation paralegal and as a corporate paralegal. Prior to joining Robinson & Cole, Ms. Negro clerked for the Honorable Fernando M. Olguin, U.S. magistrate judge for the Central District of California. She received third place in the 2010 Professor William R. Ginsberg Memorial Essay Contest with her essay “Distinguishing Water Law from Land Use to Protect Water Quality and Navigate Rapanos.”

Ms. Negro received her J.D., magna cum laude, from Cornell Law School and her B.S., cum laude, from the Georgetown University School of Foreign Service. She was editor of the Cornell Law Review and holds a certificate in justice and peace studies from Georgetown University. Ms. Negro is admitted to practice in Connecticut.
