Robinson+Cole Participates in Junior Achievement Career Walk

The JA Career Walk gives students an opportunity to learn about different careers and get an inside look at local businesses. The program at Robinson+Cole featured a brief overview of the firm and its rich history. In addition to the practice of law, the students were introduced to some of the other professions that are integral the firm's success such as information technology and business development and marketing.

"Robinson+Cole's participation in the JA Career Walk is yet another demonstration of the firm's commitment to the community and to inspiring young people to dream big about their futures," said Jeremy Race, President of Junior Achievement of Southwest New England.

Robinson+Cole is a longtime supporter of Junior Achievement having consistently volunteered at Hartford-area elementary schools on behalf of the organization for the past nine years. Robinson+Cole lawyer Christine E. Bromberg currently serves on the executive committee and is the past chair of the Board of Directors of Junior Achievement of Southwest New England.
