Robinson+Cole Among 2021 Best 50 Law Firms to Work For

Firm recognized in multiple “Law Firm Quality of Life” rankings categories as part of annual Vault Associate Survey

HARTFORD, CONN (September 16, 2020) – Robinson+Cole was among the law firms listed in the 2021 Best 50 Law Firms to Work For category as part of Vault’s Law Firm Quality of Life Rankings. The results of the rankings are derived from Vault’s Annual Associate Survey in which nearly 20,000 associates rated and commented on various aspects of their work lives. Robinson+Cole came in at #48 in its first year of participating in the survey.

Vault’s Law Firm Quality of Life Rankings include 15 subcategories. In addition to ranking in the 2021 Best 50 Law Firms to Work For category, Robinson+Cole received top 10 recognition in the Integrations of Laterals & Clerks category and the #22 designation in the Business Outlook category.

According to its website, “Vault is the most comprehensive and trusted resource for law students and laterals to research law firms.” Vault’s law firm rankings and profiles provide valuable insight for candidates to make successful career decisions. Vault ranks law firms by prestige, region, and practice area as well as top firms for quality of life using its annual survey results. As part of the ranking process, associates assess their own firms on a range of workplace issues related to career development, job satisfaction, and quality of life. These rankings are based on perceptions of insiders--some of whom may be biased in favor of (or against) their firms.

The 2021 Best 50 Law Firms to Work For rankings were calculated using a formula that weighs associate ratings in a dozen different areas: overall satisfaction; firm culture; hours; quality of work; compensation; business outlook; career outlook; associate/partner relations; transparency; informal and formal training; pro bono; and overall diversity. The Quality of Life rankings are meant to reflect the subjective opinions of associates.
