

RIDING HIGH 40 UNDER 40 2013

Our third-annual class of the best and the brightest among Generation Next includes superstars from every walk of life—doctors, lawyers, entrepreneurs, creative artists and philanthropists—nominated by friends, family, coworkers and Connecticut Magazine's editors.

---

JEFFREY J. WHITE, 34, SIMSBURY

An active partner and chair of Robinson & Cole's appellate practice group, White is as busy—and successful—in court as he is out of it. In addition to winning the Judge Maxwell Heiman Memorial Award for high standards of legal ethics and scholarship, he's also been recognized by the U.S. District Court with an award for excellence in pro bono work after having provided more than 600 hours of free legal services over the past three years. As chair of the Young Lawyers Section of the Connecticut Bar Association, White has worked with the Billings Forge Community Works to establish an annual holiday party for children, and is an active volunteer board member with the New England Air Museum.

