Robinson+Cole Partner Rachel Jaffe Mauceri Takes the Helm of TMA Philadelphia/Wilmington Chapter

PHILADELPHIA (JANUARY 31, 2022) – Rachel Jaffe Mauceri, Partner in Robinson+Cole's Bankruptcy + Reorganizations group, began her term this month as President of the Turnaround Management Association's (TMA) Philadelphia/Wilmington Chapter. She will serve in this capacity for a term of one year.

"I'm honored to step into the Presidency of the TMA's Philadelphia/Wilmington chapter and grateful for the opportunity," said Mauceri. "The TMA is a vital organization to those of us who practice in the restructuring arena. I'm excited to work with our talented Board and committees, and to collaborate with other chapters and Global, to bring innovative and meaningful programming to industry colleagues."

Mauceri's practice encompasses traditional and out-of-court turnarounds and workouts among both domestic and international business entities. She has broad transactional and bankruptcy litigation experience, representing debtors, creditors, purchasers, and other interested parties in a range of industries, including retail, energy, automotive, oil and gas, mortgage servicing, health care, real estate, and telecom.

As President of the Philadelphia/Wilmington chapter, she will continue as a Board member of TMA Global, where she is a member (and former Co-Chair) of TMA's Network of Women and a member of the DE&I Committee. In addition to her involvement with TMA, Mauceri is a member of the American Bankruptcy Institute (ABI) and is co-chair of the 2022 VALCON conference, which is co-presented by ABI and the Association of Insolvency & Restructuring Advisors (AIRA). She is also Secretary and a board member of the Consumer Bankruptcy Assistance Project, and a member of the International Women's Insolvency & Restructuring Confederation. Among other accolades, Mauceri is recognized by Chambers USA as a "rising star in the Philadelphia market."
