Andrew Roffe Elected to Alumni Council of Colgate University

Roffe to serve four-year term as one of 56 alumni on the council

NEW YORK, NY (August 5, 2014) – Robinson+Cole lawyer Andrew S. Roffe has been elected to serve a four-year term on the Alumni Council of Colgate University. The Alumni Council is charged with helping maintain Colgate's position as one of the leading liberal arts universities in the country while staying committed to its long-standing values and traditions. The group comprises 56 alumni leaders who have distinguished themselves through their commitment to Colgate and who represent the diverse backgrounds of the greater Colgate alumni community.

"As a student at Colgate, I learned about the importance of public service and making a positive contribution to society," said Mr. Roffe. "As a member of the Alumni Council, I look forward to using the experience and knowledge I have gained throughout my career, which includes representing a number of New York colleges and universities, for the benefit of Colgate."

Mr. Roffe is a partner and chair of the Administrative Law Group at Robinson+Cole, a firmwide cross-disciplinary practice focused on guiding clients through their interactions with state and local government. While Mr. Roffe was earning his B.A. in history from Colgate University, he was a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon, played soccer, served on the staff of the university's radio station (WRCU), and wrote for the Maroon News. He has been a member of President's Club since 1975 and has represented Colgate, on a pro bono basis, with the New York government since 2009.
