CYBERSECURITY

Cyber-Attackers Politically Aligned

The most recent Accenture Global Incident Report (the Report) shows that cyber-attackers have political views and are divided between support for Russia or Ukraine. According to the Report, entitled “Global Incident Report: Threat Actors Divide Along Ideological Lines over the Russia-Ukraine Conflict on Underground Forums,” the war between Russia and Ukraine has caused an unusual rift in Russian-language cyber forums (mostly ransomware gangs) between those supporting Russia and those supporting Ukraine. DATA PRIVACY

California Attorney General’s Opinion States Consumers’ Right to Know Includes Inferences

We all know businesses collect our data. But did you know that businesses can draw inferences from those data to determine whether a consumer is married, or is a homeowner, or is a likely voter? Recently, the question arose whether those inferences constitute personal information under the California Consumer Privacy Act of 2018 (CCPA or the Act) and whether consumers in California have a right to know about those inferences. Report was released. The report has been much anticipated by the drone industry and its stakeholders. The report recommends a complete overhaul of existing Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) regulations. The goal of that overhaul would be to help the booming $58.4 billion commercial drone market reach its full potential. The FAA's current regulations require commercial drone operators to operate drones within their visual line of sight only. Additionally, drone operators can only operate one drone at a time. If drone pilots could fly beyond visual line of sight, in groups, it would mean longer flight time, more efficiency and greater possibilities. To reach those goals, the nearly 400-page report includes over 70 recommendations. Read more
