Robinson+Cole Employees Lend a Hand to Foodshare

Volunteers help package food for local families

HARTFORD, CT (March 30, 2018) – On March 20, fourteen Robinson+Cole lawyers and staff members volunteered their time to help package food for local families at Foodshare's satellite facility at the Hartford Regional Market.

Robinson+Cole lawyer Emily C. Deans coordinated the effort on behalf of the firm's Associates' Council, a group that serves as a liaison between associates and firm management. Volunteers included both lawyers and staff who, together, helped provide safe food to the community by inspecting and sorting donated produce.

Founded in 1982, Foodshare is the regional food bank serving Connecticut's Hartford and Tolland counties, where 127,000 people struggle with hunger. In partnership with the food industry, donors, community leaders and volunteers, Foodshare works to maximize access to nutritious food and other resources that support food security. In addition, Foodshare collaborates with anti-hunger organizations, policy makers, and the broader community to build effective solutions to end hunger.
