Robinson+Cole Expands Litigation Practice

Firm welcomes Benjamin Daniels

HARTFORD, CT (May 18, 2021) – Robinson+Cole is pleased to announce the addition of Benjamin M. Daniels as counsel in the firm's Business Litigation Group. Daniels' practice focuses on complex litigation and education law. He will be resident in the firm's Hartford and New York offices.

Daniels looks to continue the work he did prior to joining Robinson+Cole, advising clients in sophisticated and high-profile matters. His broad experience includes counseling Fortune 100 companies, financial institutions, aerospace companies, and institutions of higher education in cutting-edge legal and regulatory disputes.

"Ben has developed a strong record of handling the sophisticated legal matters before regulators and trial courts, including the U.S. Supreme Court. His deep and varied experience will further expand our national platform," said Edward J. Heath, Chair of Robinson+Cole's Business Litigation Group. "The respect of his clients is well-deserved, and we're thrilled to bring him on board."

"I'm excited to join Robinson+Cole's elite litigation platform, which provides clients with an enhanced level of dynamic and efficient service," said Daniels. "The firm has a strong record of success with its clients, and an excellent reputation for high-quality service."

Daniels is the latest of several senior additions to Robinson+Cole. Since the beginning of the year, the firm added litigators Amanda R. Phillips and Seth B. Orkand in the Boston office as well as real estate partner, Deirdre M. Robinson. The firm also added bankruptcy and reorganizations lawyer Rachel Jaffe Mauceri and Managed Care + Employee Benefit Litigation Group lawyer Katherine M. Katchen, both in the firm's Philadelphia office.
