Patricia Igoe Recognized by Providence Business News as an “Industry Leader”

PROVIDENCE, RI (June 5, 2017) – Providence Business News honored Robinson+Cole lawyer Patricia J. Igoe as an “Industry Leader” for professional services during the publication’s tenth annual Business Women Awards held on May 25, 2017 at the Providence Marriott. Ms. Igoe is the partner in charge of Robinson+Cole’s Providence office where she is a member of the firm’s Finance Group.

Ms. Igoe’s practice includes a broad range of commercial lending, real estate, and business transactions. She is particularly well known for her legal work in the precious metal, jewelry, and electronic industries, where she represents lenders and commercial users of precious metals in connection with the financing of precious metal consignments, precious metal refineries, and jewelry manufacturing.

In addition to being a leader at Robinson+Cole, Ms. Igoe has been a longtime leader in the community. She served a nine year term on the Board of Directors of Tockwotton Home, a senior living facility in Providence, and chaired the Camp Hoffman Master Plan Task Force for the Girl Scouts of Southeastern New England. Ms. Igoe also served two terms on Lincoln School’s Board of Trustees.
